Jane Condon

Put humor and fun into your next event with award-winning speaker and comedian, Jane Condon. Considered an "upper crust Roseanne," Jane wows audiences with her heartfelt, and very funny, take on our everyday lives. She lost her mother to heart disease, and her sister had a heart attack. Her mission in life is to prevent heart disease through healthy living and lots of laughter. She is very interactive with her audiences, and everyone has a wonderful time!

Jane has appeared on ABC's "The View," NBC's "The Today Show" as well as FOX's series finale of "24," Nickelodeon's "Nick Mom Night Out," and Lifetime TV's "Girls Night Out." She was voted "Audience Favorite" in New York on "Last Comic Standing."

She has been called one of Backstage Magazine's "Top 10 Best Bets," and has won the Grand Prize in the "Ladies of Laughter Contest." She tours nationally with her show, "Ladies of Laughter: Funny and Fabulous!"

She has spoken for Yahoo!, Planned Parenthood, Wellesley College, YWCA's, Junior Leagues, St. Francis Hospital, Nantucket Cottage Hospital, Universal Media Studio, Harvard Graduate School of Education, JPMorganChase, University of New Haven, and Canyon Ranch.
